After consulting the stakeholders I chose this one as it is clear and aesthetically pleasing

When the disc is loaded into the DVD player it will come up with a short intro animation like this

Then I began looking at picture logos to go with it. Beginning with a pentacle in a circle

It slowly developed into this. I think is quite effective and vivid. Also it has a lot of meaning and is not just random

BIOGRAPHIES VIDEOS MUSIC PICTURES

For the main menu layout I decided on something a little different but still in the same basic scheme but with a big central image of the band members

I decided on this kind of layout for the general pages (videos, music and biographies pages). It is clear and simple, yet still aesthetically appealing

The pictures page will be laid out much the same as the other general pages but when a picture is selected it will come up enlarged in the top left corner

Fitness for purpose

- This solution is fit for purpose because it will easily meet all of the stakeholder requirements as well as the legal requirements such as copyright and privacy.
